There's a far away look in his eyes just now he's thinking of old St. Pete, where the sun always shines on a schedule and slot machines line the street. He's thinking of seats in the tree shaded parks and the breeze from the salt flavored sea, his mind's far away, as he sits in his chair as he thinks of where he'd like to be. He thinks of those yams and roast porker, and those large scuppernongs that they grow, but over it all he is thinking of the place where they never see snow. So he sits and his eyes see the sunshine, and the spots where the quot pitchers play, and most any time now he'll be heading down south, its wet just past sixty today.

Queen Mary And Normandie Reported As Marked Sabotage Attempt

BOTH IN HARBOR AT NEW YORK CITY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25—An enlarged police guard today kept vigilance over the Queen Mary and the Normandie, two of the world's costliest ocean liners, to frustrate a sabotage threat reportedly revealed by the United States navy intelligence service. Rigid precautions were immediately taken by New York police after being informed that a naval intelligence officer had boarded the two luxury liners, docked in adjacent berths, and warned of a threat to destroy one or both within a few days.

The usual police guards were immediately doubled. Pedestrians were detoured from the surrounding area. Motorists were not permitted to stop on the elevated highway which passes the piers.

ALARM IN FINLAND REPORTED INCREASING

Finns left Moscow at 12:30 o'clock this morning, and are due in Helsinki Thursday morning.

Russia's new demands were not made known, but they were believed connected with control of the Gulf of Finland. Paasikivi informed Joseph Stalin that the Finnish delegation lacked authority to negotiate on any new basis, and must consult the government in Helsinki.

Meanwhile, although he stressed that there was no cause for anxiety, a government spokesman said preparations for defense would be continued.

One factor supporting the ostensible official optimism was the fact that the Soviets showed no sign that haste was essential, or that additional military pressure would be applied against Finland.

For that reason, it was said, when and if negotiations are resumed, they may be protected.

THREE GERMAN WARSHIPS ARE RANGING SEAS

freighter Stonegate revealed at Tromsø, Norway, whether they were taken on the City of Flint, that the ship was sunk by the Deutschland.

Also lost was the 7,256-ton British steamer Clan Chisholm, and the 5,962-ton Greek vessel Konstantinos Hadjipateras.

Total Losses
Total shipping losses since the war began on Sept. 3 now stand at 355,099 tons, as follows:

Registry	No.	Tonnage
British	46	219,805
French	6	42,719
German	4	14,764
Neutrals	30	77,811

Totals 86 355,099

While authorities in Washington and the United States embassy in Moscow pressed for release of the City of Flint and safe conduct for its American crew of 41, accounts of its voyage which finally brought it to the vicinity of Murmansk in northern Russia still left elements of mystery.

Before their skipper ordered silence, 38 British sailors from the Stonegate, landed at Tromsø by the City of Flint, said the Deutschland sank their boat between Panama and England.

They were picked up by the American boat, they said, then the City of Flint was taken under escort by the 10,000-ton German warship.

Heading for Murmansk, the Deutschland permitted the City of Flint to put into Tromsø for water, the British crew was left there, and the captured merchantman was taken to the Soviet port.

Norwegian officials, however, said it was the Emden which captured the City of Flint. Due to the sudden silence of the Stonegate's crew, it remained uncertain whether one or both of the German warships participated in the episode.

fuel bed above will overheat it, and it will soon burn out. Damage to fireproofs is also done largely by overheating. In purchasing a furnace, always get one large enough to heat your home without forcing it.

Suggestion of the American Automobile Association that intoxicated pedestrians be prosecuted as violators of traffic laws, as a menace to motorists, is not without rational justification. Certainly what's sauce-for-goose ought to be sauce-for-gander. Today, if a drunken pedestrian gets in the way of your car and is struck, you are the one that is expected to shoulder the blame. In reality the drunk is the real menace, since his senses are blurred, while yours are alert. The courts deal harshly with drunken drivers, and rightly so. More stringent laws relating to drunken pedestrians would seem to be in order.

In our public schools yesterday William Penn day was observed with fitting stories and anecdotes of the founder of Pennsylvania. He was born 295 years ago, October 24th. To most of us, the mention of William Penn recalls our history studying days, and the picture of Penn, broad hat and loose fitting garments standing under a tree, making a treaty with a group of feather bedecked Indians. The red men always respected that treaty because Penn dealt fairly and honestly with them, instead of trying to rob them as did many of our early explorers and adventurers.

In these war days in Europe, it may be pertinent to remark that 85 years ago today, there occurred an event that has gone down in history as the "Charge of the Light Brigade." Nearly every school boy is familiar with the poem based on that charge. Can you tell in what war that famous charge occurred?

In spite of the benefits that have accrued from vaccination, there are still people who oppose it. A case in point occurred recently in Mercer county where a parent was fined because he refused to have his nine-year-old son vaccinated so that he could attend school. It is probably true that there are isolated cases where vaccination has been harmful, but the compulsory vaccination law has practically eradicated small-pox. Pa. Newc can remember before the law went into effect that we had quite a number of cases of smallpox in New Castle. The latest outbreak of any consequence was when the old Croton glass works was in operation. At that time quite a number of houses in that district bore the sign, "smallpox." There have been no cases here in recent years.

Members of the New Castle unit of the Salvation Army note with heavy hearts that their beloved commander General Evangeline Booth will retire on November 1. General Booth was born in England. She became a naturalized citizen when she came here to head the organization in the United States. A job she held for thirty years. She was 68 years old when elected General. Those who think of the Army in terms of little groups singing under street lights or gathering up old clothes, may not know the power and authority that have been General Booth's for the past five years. She has complete authority over 1,512 social institutions, and 35,000 paid officers who direct the army's work in 18,000 centers all over the world. The New Castle corps, a small unit in the organization, has won the respect and confidence of our citizens, and has accomplished much good among those who might otherwise not have been reached by other religious organizations.

Many local people who have visited Pymatuning dam this season have returned with snapshots of "ducks walking on fish." Visitors toss bread into the lake attracting fish and fowl and because of the great number of fish rising to get the food, the ducks actually walk upon the fish to get the bread. The dam or lake is becoming a fisherman's paradise, because of the abundance of wall-eyed pike, perch, large-mouth black bass and other fish. It is also becoming a great game preserve, and incidentally it holds a lot of water in storage for industries of the Shenango valley.

Mrs. R. T. Withers, of Walmo, reports that while visiting the Drake farm, Neshannock Falls, Tuesday afternoon there were two showers of hail, between 3 and 4 o'clock. They were of about ten minutes duration each, which left the grass quite wet. The sun was shining at the time.

EMBARGO REPEAL MEASURE WILL PASS CONGRESS

to warring nations, the isolationists are well satisfied with their four-week battle. They chalk up to their own account a series of victories—some of which they regard as even more important than repeal of the embargo itself.

This list of victories, isolationists say, includes:

1. Forcing an overwhelming majority of the repeal forces to declare against going to war to aid the allies, and thereby,

2. Securing outright declarations from an overwhelming majority of the senate against a declaration of war on Germany for any causes arising from the present conflict in Europe.

3. Revelation to the world, and particularly to the chancelleries in London and Paris, that neither the American congress nor the President Roosevelt's present foreign policies.

4. Elimination of the administration's original credit provisions from the bill, thereby limiting American aid to the allies to cash sale of supplies.

5. Retention of the principle of "freedom of the seas," by restricting the ban on shipment of supplies to belligerents in American vessels to the belligerent ports in Europe.

Administration leaders, on the other hand, are equally satisfied with the impending outcome of the neutrality fight. They claim, as their victories:

1. Repeal of the embargo on sale of arms to warring nations, thereby permitting American aid to the allies.

2. Disclosure the American congress is generally sympathetic with the allied cause and almost unanimously opposed to Hitlerism.

3. Restoration of President Roosevelt's personal prestige by the repeal of the arms embargo in a congress that flouted his will only three months ago.

The fight is over in the senate, except for debate and votes on amendments and the final passage. Administration leaders, privately disturbed for some time over the house situation, now are confident the lower branch will approve the bill by a substantial majority. Opposition leaders do not dispute this claim.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Carmen R. Fulkerson. Her family and many friends in New Castle were shocked to learn of the death in New York City Tuesday afternoon of Mrs. Anna Theresa Mitchell Fulkerson, aged 78 years, wife of Carman R. Fulkerson, of 121 Smithfield street, this city.

Mrs. Fulkerson tripped and fell on the New York World's Fair grounds about a week ago and sustained a broken hip. She was removed to a hospital and chances seemed favorable for recovery, until she suffered a heart attack, succumbing Tuesday at 4 p.m. With her at the Fair and in the hospital, was her daughter, Gertrude.

Mrs. Fulkerson was born in England on April 17, 1861, daughter of Tim and Mary Mitchell, now deceased. She was brought to the new country when two years old, and the family settled in Pittston, Pa. Four years later, when Anna Theresa was six years old, the family came to New Castle.

Mrs. Fulkerson was one of eight children born to Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell. This is the first death among them. Mrs. Fulkerson is survived by her husband, eight children, Gertrude, Mary, Stella and Carman, Jr., at home, John J., Edward, Arthur L. and Ira G., of this city, eight grandchildren, and seven brothers and sisters, Elizabeth, Edward, James F., George, Timothy and William Mitchell, and Mrs. D. H. Kay, all of this city.

Mrs. Fulkerson was a lifetime member of St. Mary's church. She had a wide circle of friends, and was a member of the West Side club.

High mass of requiem will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Mary's church and interment will be in the Smithfield residence at noon Thursday and until the time of services.

successfully passing his private examinations. Hong flew to the airport in his odd-appearing pusher-type airplane, the plane in which he learned to fly and has taken nearly all of his time in.

Chief Shoup Passes

Archie Shoup, chief of police of Bessemer, was in the group Tuesday, and despite the fact that it has been but a short time since he soloed at the field, Chief Shoup has attained enough hours and flying knowledge to secure his solo permit.

Those pilots who passed examinations for a private license Tuesday follow: Mrs. Wilson, George Horcher, Jr., Wayne Bevan, G. E. Hess, Joe Mancino, Tony Hong and Don Kenahan.

Those qualified for student solo permits were: Chief Shoup, Bill Shilton, Robert Zahniser, Wilson Raub, Thomas Shaffer, Frank Dewberry, Jr., Ellsworth Dewberry, Glenn Peebles and Don Douglass.

This is the second visit for the government inspectors to this field, and arrangements were made for their return at a later date. Seven is the largest number, by far, from this county to take and pass the commercial license requirements at the same time.

Taking a test for private license is far from an easy task. First comes the written work, consisting of 100 questions on the technical side of flying. The flying test comes later, at which time the inspectors put the flyers through their paces to be sure of their ability to handle an airplane.

Tail spins, power dives, figure eight loops, banks and turns are a few of the many flying maneuvers that must be performed to pass the tests for a private license.

STYLE SHOW-BRIDGE PLANNED FOR THURSDAY

Everything is in readiness for the style show and bridge planned for Thursday evening to be given in the Strouss-Hirshberg store by the Junior Reading Circle membership.

At 8 o'clock, models will promenade before the assembly, displaying Milady's latest creations in college sports wear, tea time frocks, miscellaneous sports apparel of all kinds, evening gowns, furs, suits and ensembles, with accessories to match.

On the ticket committee are Edith Cleaveland and Elizabeth Milholand who report that sales are moving rapidly. Others are, publicity, Marian Ross, Marjorie McGeorge and Peggy Griffiths; general arrangements, Lillian Dietterle, Ellen Wray, Katherine Hyde, Betty Cole Morris, Francis Carlon, Laura Whitlatch Carr, Katherine Melvin, Harriett Phipps, Mary Moore Allen and Margaret Stoll. For card contests, attractive prizes will be awarded at the close of play.

Ushering will be Josephine Beatty, Martha Chain, Lillian Dietterle, Dorothy Blim, Dorothy Atkinson, Alice Preston and Charlotte Webb. Proceeds realized will be used for charity work.

Class Has Meeting
Ruth Perry's Bible class, Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, met in the home of Miss Laura Mooney, Butler road, Tuesday evening, for their Halloween party.

Special guests were Samuel Bloise, Mrs. Anna Mooney, Mrs. Helen Mooney, Eleanor Joan and Theresa Vettore, Samuel Bloise, Joan and Theresa Vettore presented some special music, after which games were played. Prizes were awarded to Lois Hanna and Samuel Bloise.

Prizes for the best costumes went to Dorothy George and Violet Zeigler. Lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Violet Zeigler and Mrs. Helen Mooney.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Anna Weir, Huron avenue, on Tuesday, November 21.

Queen Esthers
Associates of the Queen Esthers of the Croton Avenue Methodist church gathered Tuesday evening in the home of Vivian Shaffer on Brooklyn avenue for their tureen dinner.

Irma Wagner gave the scripture reading and a religious play entitled "If We Know We Care", was presented by the members. Lois Keck sang "By Thy Abiding Power". President Vivian Shaffer presided at the meeting and plans were made for the coming year.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Geraldine Crow, 1013 Dewey avenue.

Celebrate Birthday
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ziegler, Butler road, a party of 25 friends and relatives gathered Monday evening to celebrate the birthday anniversary of Grant Francis, brother of the latter.

Chinese checkers and group singing were the diversions of the evening.

The hostess served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. Minnie Moore and Mrs. Howard Ziegler. The honored guest received a number of nice gifts.

Betty Ward Hostess
A cleverly decorated garage at the O. A. West residence of Vine street was the scene of much merriment and fun Tuesday evening, when Betty Ward was hostess to a group of boys and girls at a Halloween party. Games and dancing were the main pastimes.

George Ward, Jr., was a special guest.

At a late hour a capable committee consisting of Betty Ward, Norma Dixon, Isabelle Scilla and Marian Anderson, assisted by Mrs. George Ward, served lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ward acted as chaperons for the occasion.

CATHEDRAL CHAPTER ENTERTAINS MATRONS

Cathedral Chapter, No. 440, Order of the Eastern Star, with their worthy matrons, Olive Fern Sanford, graciously entertained the presiding worthy matrons of the O. E. S. of District 2-B, Tuesday evening, at their regular meeting in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

The chapter room was beautifully decorated with the autumnal theme predominating, and especially prominent was the new Eastern Star flag donated by Mrs. Jean R. Hanley, past matron. Gifts were distributed to the guests of honor during the evening, from the hostess chapter.

With routine affairs completed, the assembly later adjourned to the West dining room where a Halloween lunch was served at attractive arranged tables, the season's tones again predominating, suggesting Halloween.

N. H. B. KENSINGTON PLANS FOR PARTY

Plans were made to have a Halloween party on Tuesday, October 31, when N. H. B. Kensington members met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Stanley Reese, Spruce street, for a social time.

The party will be in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Mayberry, Graceland road. Those on the committee include Mrs. George Mitchell, Mrs. Ed McKibben and Mrs. Clyde Griffiths. Lunch was served by the hostess Tuesday, aided by Mrs. C. L. Martin.

In four weeks, the next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Gomer Brown, Boyles avenue.

A POWER FOR PEACE

NOT many days go by without an example of the power of propaganda. It has been brought to a fine art since the days of the World War, and today almost no end is beyond its highly developed means. It is an art which can, and does, contribute to the diplomatic success of nations, the political success of parties, the commercial success of businesses, even the social or personal success of individuals.

With so many impressive victories behind it, one wonders what would happen if the full force of organized propaganda was turned on for worldwide peace. Imagine every means at the command of the propagandists turned toward international pacifism. Suppose that at every turn we were brought face to face with the horrors and the futility and the costliness of war, the wisdom of arbitration, the benefits of peace. Imagine peace advertised to the extent that war was in the last world conflict, or even to the degree of a movie star, or cigarettes or toothpaste in the recent years. Wouldn't we become "peace conscious," as the advertising men say, intolerant of war?

Perhaps we would, but would Hitler?

JUST CARELESS

After studying Dr. Lowell S. Selling's report on tests made of motorists apprehended in Detroit for traffic violations one is forced to the conclusion that pure carelessness and not color blindness nor gun-barrel eyesight is more to blame than anything else for crashes.

"In our 716 subjects there were ten who were partially red-green blind," he says. "There were thirty-nine who were red-green blind and one who was totally color blind. None of the color blind had serious traffic records. Only twelve had a record of going through a red light, while a much greater number of the 'normal' had tickets for this offense. Of three persons who could not make the distinction between the position of lights, two were found to be suffering from a severe degree of feeble-mindedness and the third from dementia and paralysis of the insane."

It is explained gun-barrel eyesight means that the person so affected does not have a wide angle of vision but out of the 716 subjects Doctor Selling examined only five who had a vision angle of less than 40 degrees, sufficient for driving.

WILL PAY FOR IT

With the index of industrial production estimated now to be within about ten points of the high level of 1929, industrialists are beginning to talk about the necessity of leveling off because the scarcity of skilled labor will prevent much more of an upward climb.

During the period of low production following the depression, apprentice training programs were so widely neglected that industry is now feeling the shortage of skilled hands despite the increased output per man hour. If industry works up into the higher brackets of production, it will also be short of plants and machinery. But the provision of new plants and machinery is a matter of a few months only. The attaining of skill in many branches, however, often requires years of training and if the skill is not available the result is inferior production.

During the depression America has not neglected the human factor so far as supplying food and shelter is concerned. But it has neglected its training for the essential occupations of the nation. And the country will pay for that in costlier production, a longer term of idleness for many workers and greatly increased expenditure of public revenues for relief.

ZANE GREY, SYMBOL OF PERSEVERANCE

The life of Zane Grey has been a prolonged inspiration to would-be writers and aspirants in many other fields. His death at 64 will solidify for all time his reputation for perseverance despite hardships, which made his eventual recognition as a master teller of western tales the more fitting.

Young authors have often been told how he gave up an unhappy career as a New York dentist, moved to the mountain community of Lackawaxen, Pa., where he could hunt and fish and write about these two favorite diversions, and how for years he collected rejection slips, with only his wife remaining loyal and encouraging. He was 35 before "Heritage of the Desert" was accepted, but two years later "Riders of the Purple Sage" sold a million copies.

From then on he wrote a half hundred novels and books on deep-sea fishing, a sport he continued to his death.

He was a vigorous, chromatic writer, filling his pages with his own outdoors enthusiasms. To desk-bound men he gave vicarious outings in the forest and on the heaving ocean, and both personally and in his swift-moving writings he remains a symbol of virility and masculine yearnings for adventure realized.

NATURE DESTROYS—BUT SO DOES MAN

Surveying the destruction wrought on the United States liner President Harding by a mid-Atlantic hurricane inevitably reminds that nature's elements are still capable of doing as much damage as man-made war implements—also that while nature's uprisings cannot be controlled, man can curb his own militancy if he but will, suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is unlikely that sea storms can ever be reduced in number or violence by any human endeavor. Marine architects try to make vessels as weather-proof as possible; improvements continue in weather forecasting, storm avoiding power and control of vessels. Yet when wild winds arise and mountainous waves race toward a pigmy ship, those on board face a menace quite beyond their jurisdiction.

This storm, and this near-disaster to a passenger liner full of innocent voyagers, coming at a time when other vessels deliberately constructed by men for fighting purposes are attacking and sinking ships of foes similarly built for similar reasons, provide still another opportunity for men bent on battle to wonder, if they but would, at their real purpose of so doing and the ultimate benefits if any.

Nature alone continues scouring the world with no regard for race or climate or governmental system, using floods and droughts and epidemics and parasites and mighty gales as her voice of indignation. Such cannot be prevented. They purge and punish and humble and discipline mankind adequately.

Yet man insists on deliberately adding to such world tribulations through his own passions and devices. It is a vital query for bellicose nations to answer.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW SMART IS YOUR BABY?

How smart is your baby? Of course, almost every parent is inclined to think his or her baby is about the smartest tyke in all the world. Even so, you may want to check your child's progress with the findings that have been made on what the average baby can do at a given age. Some of these findings I am listing in this column, but as you check them don't be discouraged if your baby lags a little. Remember, the items merely indicate rough averages.

What a baby may be able to do during the first three months:
Lift head from time to time when held on mother's shoulder. Hold chin up while lying on stomach. Make crawling movements while lying on stomach. Lift head while lying on side. Hold head erect while in a sitting position, with back supported.

Carry an object to his mouth. Stare at large bright object. Hold large ring or spoon in hand for few moments. Turn head in direction of sound. Follow moving person with eyes, head still. Follow light moving back and forth (horizontally). Follow light moving up and down (vertically). Follow light in good-sized circle. Reach for and grasp an object.

Roll from side to back or stomach on floor or table. Clear stomach while on chest. Listen to speaking voice. Smile at mother's dancing eyes. Stop crying in response to voice of approaching mother. Scrunch with fingers against rough surface. Push with feet on being lifted. Kick feet in bath. Play with fingers. Make vocal sounds for apparent pleasure.

From beginning of fourth month to beginning of ninth month he may:

Roll from stomach to back. Roll from back to stomach. Sit with slight support. Sit momentarily unsupported on mother's knee. Clearly reach out for object held near him while on his back. Reach for and pick up spoon before him on table. Pull self to sitting position.

Bang with spoon. Shake rattle. Blink as one's hand threatens his eyes. Turn head when his name is called. Drop an object for seeming pleasure. Look after dropped object. Transfer object from one hand to other. Use one hand more than the other. Examine object in grasp.

Play With Toes
Play with toes. Drink from cup held by another person. Make vocal sounds when talked to by mother. Use several syllable words babbling. Recognize familiar persons. Show awareness of strangers. Smile. Laugh aloud. Remove cup from toy he saw placed under it. Respond to image in mirror. Be amused by sudden and grotesque movements.

The mother will find it neat fun to write in a note book the date on which each of the foregoing items of development appear.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Would you keep answering the child who would often ask you some of the same questions that you had answered for him before?
A. Yes, indeed. I would, no matter how often—if I had myself completely under control.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

TOO MANY LAWS

Some busy statisticians have determined that the forty-eight States of this Nation have on their law books some 1,156,644 laws.

A large percentage of the population of this Nation pays no attention to most of these laws. They avoid them if they can; disobey them if they must and avoid the consequences as much as the lawyers will assist them in so doing. A great many of these laws are absurd. Why they are not repealed, no one knows. Politicians are more interested in passing new laws recommended by the voters of their districts. The voters never think of recommending a repeal of some very obnoxious law, to say nothing of the many ridiculous ones. For instance:

In Kansas it is forbidden to eat snakes or scorpions.
Pennsylvania can punish very heavily anyone who breaks a beer barrel. And the firing of a cannon for wedding celebrations is punishable by hard labor.

There is still a law nominally in force in the state of Virginia which compels railroad companies to provide for a man walking with a landmine in front of a train traveling at night.

In Connecticut public parks persons of different sexes must sit at least eight inches from one another. (This law is violated nightly.) Another regulation forbids newspaper editors to publish more than a certain amount of news about murders and bloodshed.

It may be said also in passing that at least thirty per cent of these absurd laws are not enforced at all, except when someone in authority wishes to blackmail a citizen or a coterie of citizens who are opposing them politically or criticizing in a manner considered very unnecessary and bothersome.

The efficiency of a well-ordered domestic staff like that of a well-ordered army demands a reasonable amount of discipline and experience bears it out that too great familiarity with servants is quite as unwise as too great hauteur toward them. As a matter of fact trained servants of the higher class resent familiarity, although they do appreciate dignified friendship and will give their loyalty in exchange for it. Conversely, servants of the untrained "hick" type are the ones who will impose most on employers who grow familiar with them. But, after all, the success of the relationship demands a well-trained employer even more than a well-trained employee. An employer who lacks dignity in her relations with domestic staff soon finds herself treated with undue familiarity by trained and untrained servants alike.

Americans Develop Peace Complex
Most Of Country Are Against War
Congressman Says It's Above Law

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Representative John W. Flannagan of Virginia discussed our "peace complex" over the radio a few evening ago. The lower congressional chamber will be starting its discussion of the neutrality modification issue shortly and the Virginian's talk was anticipatory of this debate. He's one of the legislators who hold that modification of the present law will be in the direction of more neutrality, not less of it.

However, he gives as his opinion that our national "peace complex" is stronger than any law can be. From talks I've had with a great many people and from bushels of letters I get, mailed from all over the country, I draw the conclusion that we have, indeed, a "peace complex" that's something to write home about.

We're not much like what we were when the last World War broke out. That time, so to speak, we were only passively neutral. It was, to be sure, a war we didn't want to get into, but we didn't think we'd have to try to stay out of it. Nobody worked himself into ferment on the subject. We just took it for granted that we had sense enough to remain on the sidelines.

Now we're positively, vehemently neutral. It isn't only that we don't want to get into the present mess; we want, violently, to stay out. On the other hand, we're not so sure that we'll have the good sense to do it. We recall what happened back in 1917, and the recollection scares us.

As Congressman Flannagan remarked, we can't help having our sympathies as between belligerents, but we evidently are dead against being actually drawn into their quarrel.

What we're afraid of is that we'll change our minds later.

Not A Peep

Throughout the entire neutrality debate there hasn't been a war-like peep on Capitol Hill. There won't be, either.

There has been a different opinion as to our arms embargo, but the difference has been between opponents of the opposing side. That an absolute embargo is the truest kind of neutrality and that modification will be more neutral than that is. Both groups seek passionately to be Neutral.

It pays a senator or representative to be thus. He has his ear to the ground and knows how his home folk feel about it. Even if a few did experience a slight bellicose yearning they wouldn't dare to admit it.

The senate has been pro-modification by a considerably larger proportion than the house is likely to be.

Possibly that's because representatives are somewhat closer to their constituents than senators are, and have a hunch that the popular demand is for the absolute embargo. At any rate, it was obvious from the first that the senate was pro-modification by a big majority. The absolute embargo-lots have had hopes of victory in the lower house, but they'll lose less overwhelmingly in the lower chamber.

Marvelous Prediction

But will we get into the current conflict?

Well, I sailed for Europe late in 1915. I'd been all over the United States and reckoned that I had a correct notion of American public sentiment. After a few months at the front, observing the crazy character of the struggle (Uncle Sam having continued still to keep out of it), I grew tired of the mud and bugs, and asked the news association I represented to transfer me to South America.

Landing in Buenos Aires I effected an alliance with La Nacion, the leading newspaper there.

La Nacion asked me to write an article, forecasting our developing Yankee policy. I wrote it, to the purpose, "We by no means are so cuckoo as to break into this war." Shortly afterward President Wilson was re-elected on the slogan, "He kept the peace." I won lots of eclats for my perspicacity. Shortly later we were in.

After that experience, I've abandoned prophesy.

I was legitimately fooled, though. Our American "complex" had completely readjusted itself during my absence from the country.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

by The Baltimore Sun

Gold

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. THERE are within the Administration two views on the business to be done in this country once the embargo on arms is raised, and it is not surprising they should be. So wide apart. On nearly every basic fiscal question that has arisen in the last few years, there has been a sharp division among Government financial officials usually settled by the President inclining toward the less orthodox.

IN ONE group are the spenders; in the other, the budget balancers; one tends toward inflation, the other toward deflation; one is radical, the other conservative. In this instance, the pessimistically views the approaching "flood of orders" as calculated to disappoint us in bulk, drain our resources and damage our economy in the method of payment. The other scoffs at these ideas and insists that there is in prospect a great business boom which will amortize our own rickety financial situation, reduce unemployment and create a general prosperity.

THE first group, more or less affiliated with the Federal Reserve Board and usually with the novel opinion of Mr. Marriner Eccles, believes that the most that can be expected in the way of war purchases is two billion in two years. But this, they say, will not be net, because France and England concentrate upon buying war supplies from us there will be a great shrinkage in their purchase of peace supplies. When the adjustments are made, they greatly doubt whether our present one-and-a-half-billion-dollar favorable trade balance will be increased much, if any.

BUT more concern is felt by this group about the method of payment than the volume of business. For example, they say that England now has in this country about two billion dollars worth of gold. In addition the British produce nearly sixty per cent of all the gold annually mined in the world. The argument is that naturally England will take advantage of the fact that we are the sole market for this gold at the artificial price of $35 an ounce. Actually, gold is not worth more than $20 an ounce. That would mean, for one thing, that they would get our materials at nearly fifty per cent of their value.

FOR another, it would increase our stock of gold, already too large, beyond the danger point. Ultimately, it would force all other nations to resort to the managed currency game along German lines, which is conducted without reference to gold. The result would be to leave us with billions of buried gold, which has become valueless. In brief, if the British take advantage of the artificial price of gold we can be made practically to finance the war. After all, we owe with our economy badly dislocated, we will have underground all the gold there is, but it will be worthless. The only way to avert this danger, it is argued, is to

STRANGE MEN

These things are strange in human kind:
Fault with their fellow-men they'll find.
But for their own shortcomings claim
Upon ill-luck lies all the blame.

A victory won is theirs by right
Of knowledge, courage, skill and might.
But let them fail and they'll produce
An endless walling of excuse.

Men think themselves divine to be
And in themselves' divine fault they see.
Yet much they note in others strange,
Evil and weak, which they would change.

"Musical Holiday"

BAND COMPETITION
DURING AFTERNOON

Troop K of the Pennsylvania National Guard, mounted and in full parade uniform, will march at the head of the downtown parade Monday, October 30 which opens the Junior Chamber of Commerce's "musical holiday"—a holiday headlined by the visit of the United States Marine band.

The parade will move through the downtown to Taggart stadium, starting near the Legion home at 1:30 p. m. Boy Scouts, competing high school bands and several other groups—including Marine band members riding in automobiles—will make up the line of march.

At 2, at Taggart field, the high school band competition will commence. The Marine band will make its first appearance there, too, with Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, introducing it to the stadium audience.

The Marine band will give its principal concert in the evening at the Cathedral at 8:15 under the junior chamber sponsorship.

Discuss Plans
At a meeting of the junior chamber in The Castleton, final arrangements for the day's celebration were reported. Gurth W. Rapson heads the celebration committee. He has a capable staff of aides.

City officials, Rapson said, have promised to have police and firemen at the stadium for the afternoon program. Trophies are to be presented to high school band winners.

Legion Is Planning Twenty Year Party

Twenty years ago, not to the day but somewhere near it, a group of World War veterans met in the New Castle Y. M. C. A. It was an early fall night, outside the rain drenched everything not under cover. Inside, the twenty or twenty five men discussed the organization of a local post of the newly formed American Legion.

For the most part they had been home only a short time. Some were fresh from France, others from the Navy, others from southern and western camps. All of them were bound together with a common bond, that of service.

Commemorating that night twenty years ago, the Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion will hold a twenty year party on the night of Tuesday, November 28. Post Commander A. Lewis Conn has appointed William E. Ferver, second commander of the local post, as chairman of the committee to handle the arrangements for the meeting. Invitations will be extended to commanders of posts in this district. State Commander Edward R. Stirling and Western Vice Commander Williams have agreed to come.

Since that meeting in the "Y" twenty years ago the Legion has developed into a civic organization with responsibilities. Many of the members were at that meeting twenty years ago, and are still laboring in the cause.

Rose Avenue Parent-Teacher Association will have a meeting on Thursday evening, October 26, in the school auditorium. A special program has been arranged.

NESHANNOK PARTY

A delightfully planned Halloween party with all the "trimmings" featured the assemblage of members of the Neshannock P. T. A. in the school building on Tuesday evening. Shortly after 8, a grand march was held in the gymnasium with costume prizes being awarded to A. H. Miller, Mrs. Norman Anderson and Geraldine Rodgers.

Contests and informal games were enjoyed and the prize for the "cake" went to Joy Carlson. Maxine Eastman won the door prize. Music was furnished.

Those serving on committees were: Fred Moser, refreshments; Katherine Mayberry, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller, games; Mrs. Margaret Woodworth, prizes; and Mrs. Richard Morgan, ways and means.

November 11, members will meet in the school for the regular session.

The Great Game Of Politics

stop buying gold. That is the argument.

IT is made by the Eccles school of financiers but bitterly opposed by the Treasury school. The latter say the whole idea is fantastic. In the first place, the English have no such notion and would play no such game. Payment here for goods will be made from the proceeds of the sale of British securities. Perhaps, in the end, if the law lasts long enough, it is inevitable that we will accumulate their gold, but that any such method as is suggested will be calculating followed by the British or any such result ensue is not within the realm of possibility.

BUT there is another view about gold, held by a man not connected with either group but whose realistic opinions on finance carry great weight. The suggestion that the gold we have, or will accumulate, ever will become valueless this man dismisses as absurd. No matter what the country and what the new currency scheme, in the end they all come back to gold. "Gold," he says, "is the one indestructible thing in the world. From the beginning of civilized society it has been the universal measure of value. It still is. For thousands of years people have wanted gold. I do not believe they have changed—or will. If our Government wants to find out whether gold is likely to lose its value, there is a simple way to do it. Let it take this gold it has and mint it up into $5, $20, $50 and $100 gold pieces and offer them to the people. You would have to call out the army to stop the rush."

"JUST give people an opportunity to get gold and assure them it will not again be taken from them and watch the stampede. A most convincing eagerness would be evinced everywhere to trade in these white, green, yellow and pink pieces of paper we call dollars, pounds, marks, francs or bonds for those shining, beautiful pieces of metal. You could take those shining pieces anywhere you want and get what you want. You could take them into the heart of Africa and trade them to the savages for their eyeteeth. Try doing that with a Government bond. Just give us a chance to get gold again if you want to know its value. Talk about it becoming worthless! Economists who argue that way are six pounds lighter than a toy balloon."

GLEANERS PARTY AT COTTAGE IS SUCCESS

The B. P. W. cottage, situated at the edge of Lakewood lake, decorated with pumpkins, faces, witches and corn stalks, set off in dim lights, was the scene of a successful party, by members of the Gleaners Class of the First Baptist church, who donated mummies costumes and assembled for their annual Halloween party.

Prizes were awarded for contests and games conducted under the direction of Mrs. Helen Mayberry, Mrs. Margaret Griffith and Mrs. Grace Brest. The party was held at the cottage, through the invitation of Miss Pearl Hockenberry.

Lunch was served afterwards to upwards of twenty guests. On the committee were officers of the class, including Mrs. Gretchen Haug, Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith, Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, Mrs. Beatrice Emmett, Mrs. Florence Woodward, Miss Amy Druschel, Mrs. Gladys Crawford and Mrs. Hazel Russell.

The next gathering of the class will be in the nature of a tureen at the church, on Tuesday, November 14.

DeBlander-Panella

Quiet and impressive was the ceremony performed on Tuesday morning in St. Alphonsus church in McDonald, Pa., uniting in marriage Miss Zella DeBlander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Octave DeBlander of McDonald, and Peter Panella, son of Mrs. Mary Panella of 801 South Jefferson street, this city.

The vows were exchanged at 8:30 o'clock, with Rev. J. A. Burroughs officiating and using the single ring service.

For her marriage the bride wore a white bengaline gown with full skirt and sweetheart neckline. Miss Zella DeBlander as maid of honor wore a taffeta hoop skirt gown. Paul DeBlander served the groom as best man.

A wedding breakfast was served to guests at a dining room in McDonald, Pa., and following, the young couple departed on a wedding trip to New York City and other points of interest.

After November 1, Mr. and Mrs. Panella will be "at home" to their friends at their newly furnished apartment in McDonald. Mr. and Mrs. Panella are employed in a bottling factory in McDonald, Pa.

Surprise Party

Mrs. N. A. Cearfoss, Gardner Lane, was pleasantly surprised on a recent evening when 40 friends and relatives gathered to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Games provided pastimes, prizes being won by Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Kennedy, Buddy Cearfoss and Mrs. Jack Cearfoss.

Mrs. Cearfoss' aides in serving a lunch were Mrs. James Dennis, Mrs. Elizabeth Hallock, Mrs. Melissa Chaplin and Mrs. Jack Cearfoss.

Attend Wedding

Mrs. Mary Panella and daughter, Katherine, of South Jefferson street, Mr. and Mrs. John DeSantis, East Lutton street, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Panels of Huey street, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Croach, of Harrison street, have returned to their home after attending the wedding of Zella DeBlander of McDonald, and Peter Panella, South Jefferson street, this city, which took place on Tuesday morning in McDonald.

Theta Rho Girls Plans

Members of the Melissa Penton Theta Rho Girls will meet Friday evening, October 27, in the I. O. O. F. hall, East Washington street.

There will be a special meeting at 6:30 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock the Theta Rho Girls deputy, Ella Mae Flynn and her staff from Sharpville will install the officers. The installation is open to the public.

Will Have Luncheon

Section 5, First Baptist church, will have a 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday, October 26, in the church basement.

GRASS FIRE

Firemen were called to the hillside in the rear of Neshannock avenue Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 to extinguish a fire in grass and leaves. No damage resulted.

Hi-Tri Society

Miss Bertha Sullivan entertained the Hi-Tri Missionary Society of the Central Christian church in her home on Long avenue, Tuesday evening. Plans were formed for a halloween party to take place, Monday evening, October 30, in the church parlors.

Interesting book reviews were presented by Miss Sullivan and Grace Tru. Light refreshments were served and the hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sullivan.

Miss Dingley Honored

A lovely farewell party was held recently by the girls of the Shenango Pottery, for Miss Leslie Dingley of New Bedford, who is leaving on November 3, to take up residence in Los Angeles, Cal. The event was held at a tearoom. An informal social time was enjoyed.

A delicious lunch was served at a later hour. As special guests they had Mr. and Mrs. Philip Perrott and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson. Miss Dingley was the recipient of a lovely gift in behalf of the group.

Amity Class

Miss Rachel Boozel entertained at her home in Volant, Tuesday evening, for members of the Amity class of the Nazarene church. Special guests were Rose Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Womer and daughter, Irene, and Mrs. Ida Mae Campbell.

Informal contests were enjoyed and the winners were compensated. Light refreshments were served and the sides were Bernice Boozel and Mrs. J. Boozel.

T. L. T. Kensington

Mrs. Emma McKissick, Neshannock avenue, entertained T. L. T. Kensington members in her home Tuesday evening. Special guests were Mrs. Leslie McKissick and Mrs. P. N. Walsh.

A social time was enjoyed, and game prizes were won by Mrs. Leslie McKissick, Mrs. Alice Patterson and Mrs. Jennie Drumm. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Walsh in serving lunch.

In three weeks, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Superior street, will entertain.

U. S. AWAITING EXPLANATION OF SHIP SEIZURE

Affairs V. Potemkin yesterday at which time promises of "full information" were given the American envoy. The meeting was described as a "cordial" one, in Moscow dispatches.

Germany Defends Move

Berlin, Oct. 25.—On the grounds her navigation charts had been thrown overboard, rendering the vessel "unseaworthy", Nazi Germany today stoutly defended the right of a prize crew to seize the American freighter City of Flint and take it to a neutral Soviet port of Murnansk.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Under international law, according to competent authorities, neutral vessels seized as alleged carriers of contraband can be taken into neutral ports only because of bad weather, damage to the vessel or insufficient provisions.)

The German government assured the United States embassy, however, that both Germany and Russia are speeding investigation of the City of Flint's status. Alexander C. Kirk, American charge d'affaires, expressed his government's concern over the vessel's fate and that of its crew of 42.

Baron Ernst Von Weizsaecker, secretary of state in the foreign office, advised Kirk that a qualified German maritime expert had been dispatched to Murnansk two days ago to look into the problem.

Discussions also have been going on between Berlin and Moscow regarding both the City of Flint and the 18 members of the German prize crew who intercepted the freighter in the Atlantic after she had rescued 38 seamen from the torpedoed British steamer Stonegate.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Identity of the sea raider which captured the City of Flint has not been definitely established. One report named her as the cruiser Emden and another as the Nazi pocket battleship Deutschland.)

REPORT SUDDEN OUTBREAK OF HAND-TO-HAND BATTLING

surprise attack in what appeared to be an effort to drive the last French forces from German soil.

In a bayonet counter-attack, the French pounded back the Germans before a French outpost on the edge of the Warmer forest, according to information in Paris.

With their objective a tiny village near Forbach, the Germans crept under cover of a misty rain in the Daw, invisible to lookouts, and suddenly stormed the French post with hand grenades.

So unexpected was the onslaught that the usual automatic field artillery and cross machine gun fire was impossible, but the French opened direct machine gun streams while split companies of troops went over the top in a bayonet charge on either side of the attackers.

In hardly more than five minutes, the Germans were driven back with automatic rifle fire, inflicting numerous casualties on the Germans, according to Paris dispatches.

What day you celebrate Thanksgiving Day this year depends upon the state in which you live. Up until a short time ago the entire country was prepared to celebrate Thursday, November 30. Then President Franklin D. Roosevelt announced that Thursday, November 23, would be the day. Half the country said okay, and the other half said it would still take November 30 with two states, Colorado and Texas, deciding to celebrate both days.

So many requests for information have come into the New Castle Motor club that B. N. Hanlin, secretary and manager of the club, has compiled a list of the states observing either day. The list follows:

November 23

California, New York.
Colorado, North Dakota.
Delaware, Ohio.
Georgia, Oregon.
Illinois, Pennsylvania.
Indiana, South Carolina.
Louisiana, Texas.
Maryland, Utah.
Michigan, Virginia.
Missouri, Washington.
Montana, West Virginia.

Second class townships in Lawrence county will receive the sum of $18,112 on November 1 as their share of refunds due from the state highway department on that date.

The 1939 session of the General Assembly enacted legislation providing for the refund to second class townships of the unexpended balance of the 1937 appropriation. The first allocation to the townships was made on July 1.

Mercer county is allotted $36,127. Beaver county $20,297 and Butler county $38,199.

United Presbyterian
Presbytery Convenes

Fall Session Tuesday In Darlington; Dr. D. L. Ferguson Is New Moderator

United Presbyterian ministers and elders from the churches of Beaver Valley Presbytery convened in fall sessions Tuesday morning and afternoon in the Darlington U. P. church.

Rev. Ray Woodburn, of Mt. Jackson, the retiring moderator, presided over the session. Dr. D. L. Ferguson, of Highland church, New Castle, was elected moderator, to take office next April; Rev. J. W. Harsha, of Darlington, will be vice moderator.

Announcement was made that the call extended by the First U. P. church of Beaver Falls to Rev. Frank Black of Warren, O., has been declined.

Election of delegates to general assembly in Buffalo next May took place. Presbytery was encouraged by a report which showed the mission contributions for the half-year larger than they have been. Ladies of the church served luncheon at noon, and in the afternoon some time was devoted to a conference on the U. P. pension system, directed by Dr. R. W. Burnside, of Philadelphia, secretary of the board of ministerial pensions and relief.

Modern Oxford
Guild Meeting

Modern Oxford Guild members had their meeting Tuesday evening at the New Castle Public Library with Coville Hemphill leading. He presented a summary of the life of O. Henry and reviewed some of his works, including the "Rolling Stone," a newspaper published by O. Henry for some time.

Mystery stories were read afterwards. A story with a most unique plot was written by Coville Hemphill and a story similar to the Sherlock Holmes tales was written by Everett Hoffman.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, October 31, at 7 o'clock with Jack Penman as leader. Everett Hoffman, club director, wishes to state that the club is not, in the opinion, associated with the Oxford movement, but is for the purpose of discussing literary subjects.

State President Of W. C. T. U. Will Speak On Friday

County W. T. C. U. Dinner At
New Wilmington; Harrisburg Convention Is Over

This is a newswy week for the W. C. T. U. The state convention has just closed. Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, president of the Lawrence County Union, was elected state recording secretary. Delegates are home with enthusiastic reports, and the re-elected state president, Mrs. Ella Black of Beaver, is going to speak at a Lawrence County W. C. T. U. dinner in New Wilmington Friday evening.

The dinner, which is scheduled for Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the Neshaunock Presbyterian church of New Wilmington, will likely attract a large gathering. In addition to Mrs. Black, Mrs. Alvin Sherbine, state Y. T. C. department director, who is also prominent in national W. C. T. U. activities, will be heard.

Among the local women home from the convention in Harrisburg are Mrs. Ralph Cline, Mrs. Archie Allen and Mrs. J. B. McClaren. Mrs. Wilkins was expected home tonight or tomorrow. Others from the county who attended included Mrs. Irwin Stevenson of Slippery Rock, Mrs. J. Audley Boak, Slippery Rock township; Mrs. Margaret McClure and Mrs. Greer of New Wilmington.

DOCTOR DEVELOPS

SUBSTITUTE FOR

MOTHER'S MILK

(International News Service)

CHICAGO.—After two years of research Dr. Maurice L. Blatt has succeeded in developing a substitute for mother's milk so necessary to maintain the spark of life in infants.

Two years ago Dr. Blatt discovered a way for all infants to have the all important mother's milk but it had yet to be approved by the leading baby specialists of the country. So after two years of ceaseless experimenting at the Cook County Hospital research laboratories, of which Dr. Blatt is the infant specialist, the substitute has come through with flying banners to the acclaim of baby experts.

Since infants cannot digest ordinary milk during the first six months of their lives Dr. Blatt set out to find the essential difference between human and bovine milk. He finally discovered that an addition of a powder extract taken from sweet-breads—pancreas of calves—when added to regular milk will transform it into a first class substitute for mother's milk.

At Bozmin, Assizes, Cornwall county, the following exchange occurred between father and son:

Judge: This woman was simply out to cause pain.

Prosecuting Counsel: Forgive me, my lord, but I think the correct quotation is to give pain.

Judge: Of course, you have had a better education than I had.

Prosecuting Counsel: I cannot complain, my lord, that my education was neglected.

GRANDDAUGHTER IS HURT AT TRENTON

Mrs. Mary Edmunds, North Mercer street, has received word that her granddaughter, nine-year old Winifred Ann Carroll, 40 Laurel Place, Trenton, N. J., received a fractured left arm while playing recently. She is to be admitted to the Nursery hospital of Trenton today for further examination.

Winifred Ann, daughter of Mrs. Edith Carroll, Trenton, returned home just a short time ago after spending eight weeks here with her grandmother, Mrs. Edmunds, and her aunt, Mrs. Winifred James, North Mercer street.

Music Groups Plan Festival At Union High

Midwestern District Of Pennsylvania School Music Association To Meet

OVER 200 PLAN TO COME TO CITY

Union Township High School has been chosen to be host to more than 200 students, representing all of the high schools in the Midwestern District of the Pennsylvania School Music Association, when they meet for their annual Choral Festival on November 16, 17 and 18.

Efforts are being made to have Miss Mary Muldowney, of the Music Department of Indiana State Teachers College, and a graduate of the New York University, School of Music, at the festival as guest conductor.

LeRoy Rowley, head of the music department of Union High School, is serving as chairman for this coming event. He is working with the following committee: Carrol Kearns, Slippery Rock; Virginia Jamison, Farrell; J. B. Weinstein, Evans City; and Arthur McCormick, of Ambridge.

According to Rowley the Convention will get under way with registration at 7 p. m. Thursday, November 16 in the principal's office of Union High School. Rehearsals for the mixed chorus will be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, all day on Friday, November 17, and in the forenoon of Saturday, November 18.

Saturday evening, November 18, at 8:15 o'clock the high-light of the event will be held, in the form of a concert in the township high school auditorium on Scotland Lane.

Musical used at this concert will be the same as will be used by the State Chorus at Knox, Pa., on December 15.

In addition to the above schedule, a choral clinic is being planned for Friday and Saturday morning at the school.

Persons who will take part in the Choral Festival will come from Clarion, Armstrong, Jefferson, Beaver, Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties.

Miss Fern Cloak, Union High instructor, is in charge of the housing committee, to arrange lodging places for the visiting students. She stated today that any person in this district who would accommodate one or more students during this event please contact her at the school by calling 1964 or at home, 2306.

According to Chairman Rowley, full program of activities will be announced just as soon as it is completed.

Don't Crowd In Path Of Police Or Bandits Fire

Police Chief Warns People To Stay Away From Trouble Scenes

"Whenever one hears a burglar alarm sound, he or she should not rush to the scene; let the police handle the situation," said Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell today.

"We do not anticipate any hold-ups but every time a burglar alarm has sounded here some people along the street run to the scene. "In case it is a hold-up the people who rush to the scene are in line of fire, and in the way of the police. Police cannot return fire at bandits with people in the way. Bandits know this but they don't care where they shoot," he declared.

"Plans for covering hold-ups at business places are known to all police. They know what to do. People should not crowd in their way. Assistance is appreciated but sometimes it hampers police and brings death to spectators."

STREET LISTS ARE READY FOR PUBLIC

Streets lists of voters have been compiled and are now ready for distribution, according to Registration Clerk, Mrs. Edith Hileman. The lists contain the names, party affiliation and street address of voters in this city and Ellwood City, and other places where houses are numbered. In the country districts they are made out by voting precincts.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Mice aren't listed on the big board, and a falling supply won't be registered in stock quotations. But the supply is falling, and when you look into it, the shortage is important to a lot of creatures besides owls and snakes, considering how all mundane things are geared in together these days. We get this mouse news from Bear Mountain Park, New York.

There is business as usual there, with the beavers staking out some marvelous new housing projects, but the story of the day seems to be mice. The bot-flies are getting them. Ordinarily a horse will make a satisfactory meal ticket for generations of bot-flies. But the substitute automobile is not flet mignon, even for a bot-fly, so it works on down to mice, and a mouse can't take it like a horse.

Unless something stops the bot-flies, the mice will be exterminated thereabouts, and the owls, hawks, shrikes, snakes and the like will be on relief. That is a matter of great concern to the park management and the above are all important members of the main cast of characters in the fascinating life drama of the park.

A press dispatch from Washington feeds into the mouse story at a point of tangency with the Human Side of the News. England, making tremendous advances in the study of cancer during the last two years, has destroyed all the mice in virtually every laboratory in the country. Much of their research has been discontinued, due to their concentration on war activities. Germany abandoned its great prospectus of biological research several years ago to turn to armament and the synthesis of food, clothing and materials.

Of course that means a lessening demand for mice, but that is bad news for the medical scientists. They are pressing hard on important new discoveries and it is important that mice should be fruitful and multiply all over the world, whether housewives like it or not.

The mouse supply must be maintained in this country for such institutions as the Rockefeller Institute, the Mellon Institute, the department of agriculture and other government bureaus, and the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory at Bar Harbor, Me.

At the last named laboratory, Dr. Clarence Cook Little has 30,000 mice, and he just couldn't keep house without them. His research covers not only medical problems but, as he grades the mice and studies them, certain phases of human and animal behavior—in the inter-related affairs of mice and men. Recently, Dr. Little remarked:

"I have no respect for the 'new deal' in either party, that aims at giving bad luck to the man who has good luck, and good luck to the man who has bad luck. In the future, man must be placed in his sphere according to his abilities—we must segregate according to their standing."

Dr. Little does not identify the "we" who would do the segregating, but that's another story, and in the meantime nature is doing a lot of grading and segregating on her own account, in the vast inter-play of the life-force, maintaining the life-balance ruthlessly, aiming at universals, indifferent to individuals. She'll probably find a way to restrain the bot-flies if they begin taking in too much territory. Incidentally, Julian Huxley, the distinguished British scientist, is warning mankind about engaging in wanton destruction, and it is he who has made the most profound of recent studies in the delicate life equations, fouled up considerably by man setting out banquets for bugs in his fields and vineyards.

Henry Ford starts the automobile age—with all the good will in the world. Automobiles banish horses. Bot-flies start killing mice. Automobiles grow into tanks and kill thousands. Other thousands die of dreadful diseases when medical research fails for want of mice. That's far-fetched; but not a bit more fantastic than some of the real sequences in the interwoven pattern of life. Man had better knock off fighting and use the brain God gave him, or the bot-flies may get the decision in the end.

The registration bureau was busy today handing out street lists of voters. The lists are valuable principally to candidates and politicians, as they contain the names of voters and the party to which they belong. The street lists were prepared on the county's mimeograph machine.

County commissioners have appointed William N. Robinson of Union township as inspector for roads to be top-dressed in Neshannock, Pulaski, Union, North Beaver and Shenango townships. The roads to be inspected are those in which the stone base has been put in by the different townships. The county commissioners are furnishing the top-dressing for these roads. Some of the townships do not have any roads to top-dress at present, but when they do have roads, so improved, they will get their share of the fifty thousand dollars which the commissioners have appropriated for that purpose.

County Treasurer V. I. Mandich calls attention to the fact that there are only five more days during which delinquent taxes can be paid less penalties and interest. The time limit of the act passed by the last legislature expires on October 31. Those who are making installment payments on 1935-36 and 37 taxes, must also pay the installments by the end of this month. The treasurer's office has been busy furnishing statements during the past month, and it is expected that there will be the usual rush before the time limit expires. Hundreds of taxpayers have so far taken advantage of the abatement act.

County commissioners have agreed to furnish six hundred feet of tile to lay a sewer from the cesspool at the county home, down through the municipal golf course to a natural water way. It is understood that the City of New Castle will do the laying of the tile. There has been considerable complaint about conditions at the cesspool on account of the bad odor and the overflow. It is believed that the proposed sewer will take care of the situation in a satisfactory manner. It is proposed to have the sewer laid before cold weather sets in.

County Commissioners Clerk, William A. Eakin, has completed the making up of forms for the November election ballot, and the copy is now in the hands of the printer. The election is to be held Tuesday, November 7. The ballots this year will be comparatively small, in comparison with some of recent years. There will be no amendments or other features, nothing but the names of the candidates.

M. P. In the case of Mary Jeanette, in whose cellar at Ellwood City, liquor was found, a plea of nolle contendere and a fine of $100 and costs imposed, the liquor confiscated consists of six cases of beer and three quarts of whiskey. DOCTOR EXPLAINS WHY MILK IS CONSIDERED NEARLY PERFECT FOOD

I don't believe a country could possibly have a normal healthy people unless they received at least a reasonable supply of milk and milk products.

The body needs proteins, fats, minerals, vitamins, carbohydrates. Milk is important because it contains all the needed food elements which give to the body the ability to resist disease and the results of illness and accidents.

Actually there is no one food which contains all the elements the body needs in the right proportions. But milk is the food that comes nearest this standard of perfection.

Largely milk is made up of protein, fat, lactose and ash. Proteins are the substances the body uses to build up and repair tissues. They are important to young people because they allow the child to grow. The new tissue in the child's body that makes him larger and larger is mostly these proteins. Older people still need quite a bit of protein because as old tissue breaks down new tissue must take its place. Now you see one of the reasons why milk, rich as it is in protein, is important.

In fact, sometimes I think that the reason we, as a people, are growing taller is because we drink more milk than we used to; children growing up have more protein to add inches to their stature. I am sure all of you have noticed how second generations of peoples migrating from Europe are nearly always larger than their parents. I give milk a lot of credit for this.

The lactose in the milk is the only carbohydrate it contains. Carbohydrates are the fuels of the body. They give us energy to do work, to think, to plan. If it were for its carbohydrates alone, milk would be an important food.

Fats in milk supply us with body fat and energy. The ash mentioned as a component of milk is made up of minerals. There is calcium in this ash; there is phosphorus, potassium, chlorine and sulphur in considerable quantities. There are also small amounts of iron, copper, zinc, aluminum, manganese, iodine, fluorine, and a dozen other odd minerals. When you drank that glass of milk at noon, you had no idea of all the things you were taking into your system.

Of the minerals milk contains, calcium is the most important. Bones and teeth are composed of calcium, and to build them properly and maintain them large quantities of the mineral are required. Milk is the best known source of it.

Very important elements in diet are vitamins. Perhaps some of you have been wondering why I didn't mention them when we talked of the components of milk. But vitamins do not appear in a chemical analysis. I will deal with them later.

Ordinarily a food is considered valuable if it contains any one of the five necessary food elements we have been talking about. Yet here is a food which contains generous quantities of all the types of food.

Make Plans For United Jewish Appeal Campaign

Marcus Feuchtwanger Honorary Chairman And Louis
Sandler Chairman

Preliminary plans for the annual United Jewish Appeal campaign were made at a meeting held recently in the Cosmo club. Two prominent guests, Henry Montor, executive vice-chairman of the United Jewish Appeal for the country, and Rabbi A. L. Davidson, field representative for this section, attended the meeting. Rabbi Norman H. Diamond presided.

Mr. Montor, in a most compelling manner, presented a survey of the situation in Europe as it affected more than two million Jews. Following, Rabbi Davidson spoke enthusiastically of the fine response which he had met in all nearby communities. Both emphasized the need for funds if suffering Jewry is to be rescued from Nazi terrorism and Communist irreligion.

Marcus Feuchtwanger was chosen as honorary chairman, and Louis Sandler, chairman of the 1938 campaign, was re-elected in recognition of his leadership last year. J. E. Raffel will act as co-chairman. They were given the authority to select the staff of officers and the members of the executive board.

Consider the death rate record of the past ten years.

The report includes 27 countries, all European but four.

In all but three, the death rates steadily declined.

In this country, the death rate has continuously dropped.

Such a record about the world is not mere coincidence.

Behind it lies infinite labor and thought.

Medical men and health authorities are mainly responsible.

They build up a fine record and what happens? War!

There is a harvest of death on the battlefield.

Deaths from disease follow in the wake of war.

P. T. A. Will Make Accidents Survey

Will Endeavor To Find Why
Accidents Happen And How To Prevent Them

Because of the stupendous number of accidents sustained by families in their own homes, a widespread campaign for "safety in the home" has been instituted by the American Red Cross.

The other day in Pittsburgh, at the P. T. A. convention, Mrs. C. R. Brenner of New Castle conducted a conference symposium on safety, and much interest was shown in an announcement of a nation-wide survey of family accidents to be made as a part of the traffic-safety project of the National P. T. A. Congress.

The survey will be conducted from November 1 to January 31 and will cover home accidents and all kinds of family accidents outside of those occurring in industries. The National Congress is asking every local

P. T. A. to co-operate. One hundred twenty-five average families will be used in the Pennsylvania survey. They will be chosen from the P. T. A. ranks, and each family will report once a week to the survey headquarters, listing accidents, minor or serious, which have occurred in the family circle. The P. T. A. is endeavoring to discover why accidents happen and how to prevent them. Last year, it is reported, 31,500 people in the nation lost their lives in accidents inside their homes, and that 4,600,000 were injured.

British Planes Make Flight Over German Cities

Observations Are Made Over Berlin

No Bombs Are Dropped By Airmen In Flight Over Germany

FIND CITIES ARE PARTIALLY DARK

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 25.—In daring flights straight to the heart of Germany, Royal Air Force planes made reconnaissance trips to Berlin, Hamburg, and Magdeburg during the night. It was officially announced today. Bright moonlight aided observation over the partially blacked-out cities. A communique issued by the air ministry said:

"Reconnaissance carried out by the R. A. F. during the past 24 hours included night flight over Berlin, Magdeburg and Hamburg."

No Bombs Dropped
While no bombs were dropped, the flights were taken as a demonstration in reply to recent German successes on the sea.

Assuming that the journeys were made from bases in England, the one-way flight to Berlin covered over 600 miles, to Hamburg 400, and to Magdeburg, 500.

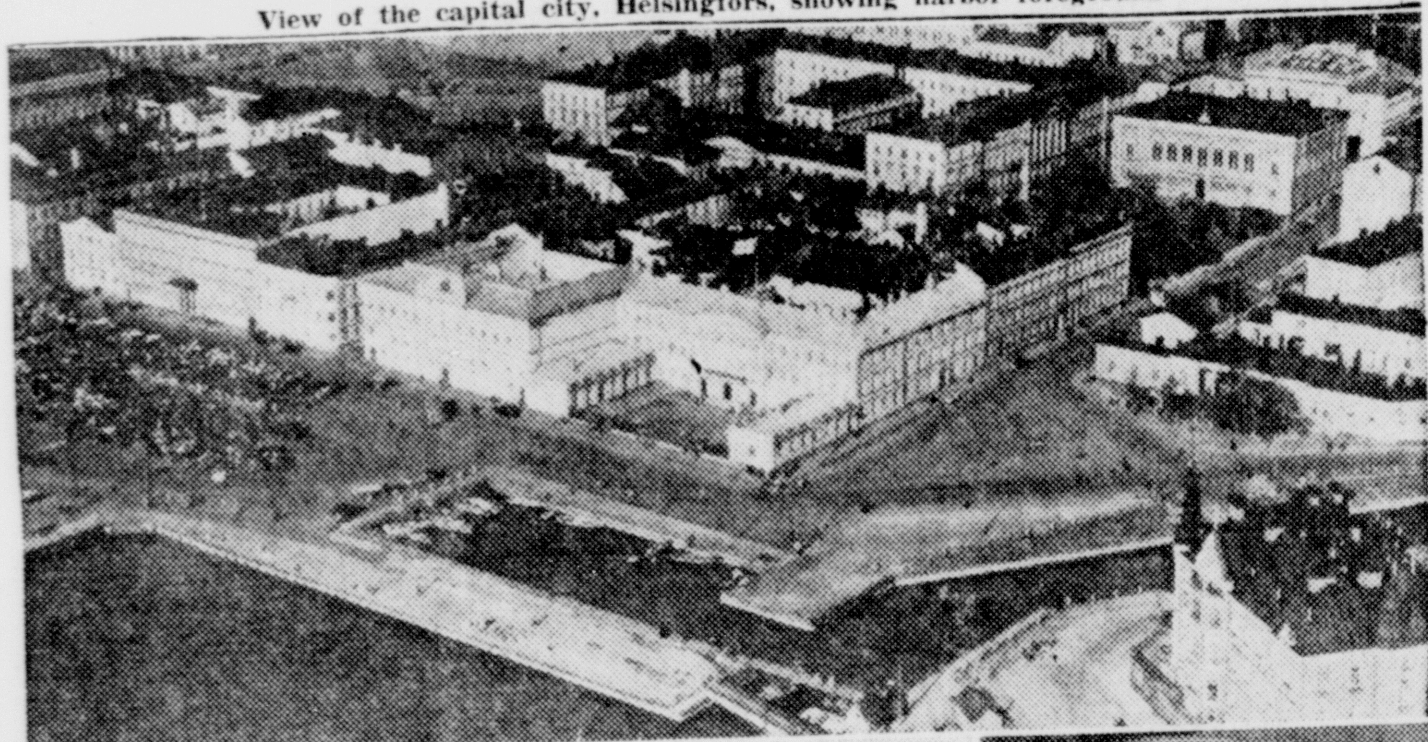

Denied In Berlin
Berlin, Oct. 25.—The German air ministry today disclaimed knowledge of British reconnaissance flights over Berlin, Hamburg and Magdeburg.

"Nothing is known of such flights, and the public is completely unaware," the statement said.

Russia's drive for supremacy in the Baltic shifts the international spotlight on Finland. Soviet officials, seeking heavy concessions from Finland in the way of naval bases and military and economic demands, called Finnish representatives to Moscow to discuss the situation. Meanwhile, tension increased in Helsinki, and land air defenses were practiced and border fortifications increased.

Mahoning Valley Grange Plans For Coming Activities

Arrangements Completed For Halloween Party And Neighborhood Night

Mahoning Valley Grange met in the Grange hall Tuesday evening with Master Frank Kelso presiding. Announcement was made of the annual Halloween party in the Grange hall on Friday evening to which the public has been invited. This will be in the form of a masquerade and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. The committee in charge of the entertainment at the party consists of Mrs. Frances Jacobson, Wilbur Robison, and Mrs. George Hudson, Jr.

Plans were also furthered for the Neighborhood Night program which will take place on the evening of November 1, instead of October 31, because of Halloween.

Mahoning Grange will be hosts, with Liberty Grange putting on the musical work, Willard Grange the program, while Plainville Grange will be the visiting Grange, and will be entertained.

News Briefs From City Hall

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell was confined to his home by illness today.

Report was made to police last night that tires and gasoline have been stolen from automobiles parked in the rear of the 1300 block of East Washington street.

Policeman James Hagen took into custody two McKeesport run-away boys, Eugene Geisler and Jack Sisley, last night. Their parents came here and returned the lads to their homes.

A dangerous hole was reported in the floor of the Mahoning Avenue viaduct last night. Lieutenant G. S. Kennedy of the police bureau had warning red lights placed at the hole.

ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSOR

Some Unique Answers Given In Drivers' Tests

There always is a touch of humor in every serious situation and taking a test to operate a motor vehicle in Pennsylvania is no child's play. To the contrary it is a serious matter and State Motor police endeavor to pass only those qualified to drive a car.

The motor police have been conducting examinations here for years and a veteran of the examination squad was forced to smile rather visibly recently when an applicant was instructed to read the chart for visibility.

The applicant came to the sentence:

"Dangerous railroad crossing."

"The applicant did not give a clear pronunciation of the question."

"What crossing?" inquired the examiner.

"The — railroad crossing," the applicant replied, naming the railroad.

"And why do you say that?" the officer quizzed again.

"Because you always read in the paper where someone is being killed on the — railroad crossing," the applicant replied.

And then another question some times gets some of those less familiar with English than those who have had the benefit of higher grades in school.

The chart reads:

"A reckless driver is a criminal."

Several times applicants have been heard to read it like this:

"A reckless driver is a China-man."

This brought the recollection that so far as the News reporter who has been covering the examination squad knows only one Chinaman has passed the test here. Two have taken the examination.

MAN BEATS NATURE
(International News Service)

WHITE SALMON, Wash.—Although Husum Falls was blasted away to make way for modern progress along the White Salmon-Troul lake highway, public protest was so great that the famed beauty spot has again made its appearance, but on a far grander scale. Engineers went to work and blasted away the rock cliff at a convenient distance and diverted the river to form a man-made waterfall that far exceeds the former landmark carved by nature over a period of thousands of years. The scenic work will be completed at a cost of $10,000.

Kiwanis, Rotary Combine For Joint Meeting Tuesday

Original "Surprise" Program In Charge Of Vincent Carbeau Is Decided Hit

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—An unusual and in conclusion highly successful combined meeting of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs took place last evening in the Trinity Lutheran church dining room. It was an exceptionally large attendance of members of both organizations.

Kasimir Starzinski, a noted Pittsburgh attorney, was originally scheduled as the speaker, but just before the dinner a wire was received that he was unable to attend but was sending Dr. Vaclav Benes in his place.

Dr. Benes was introduced and spoke on "The Wrongs of This Country." In his address he said that woman's suffrage should be repealed, that birth control should be eliminated, that this country needed a dictator, that freedom of speech and press should be abolished, etc.

Thinking that "Red" had been forced upon them, the highly indignant Kiwanians and Rotarians, resembling apoplexies, greeted the speaker's conclusion with frigid silence. At this point, Luke Barnett, professional entertainer, of Pittsburgh, was introduced and proved to be none other than the evening's speaker, and the "hoaxed" group are still laughing today, at their own gullibility.

Exceptionally fine entertainment in the form of imitations of various kinds was given by John Wilson, of Beaver Falls, and much enjoyed. With Bob Stevenson as pianist, Jim Croft led the singing preceding the program.

The Kiwanis are to operate a concession stand at the hospital benefit show next Saturday at Wampum and asked co-operation of the club. Announcement was made of the Toray play, "You Can't Take It With You" to be given late in November at the high school auditorium with the benefits to be given in full to the orchestra uniform fund.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Bessor, of Zelenople; Mr. and Mrs. James Croft, Clyde Gibson, Jr., Miss Marjorie Streeter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Tommasson, Joseph Carbeau and John Wilson.

Vincent Carbeau was in charge of the "surprise" program and was congratulated by the group for the success of the evening.

B. V. M. Sodality Plans Festival

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—At a meeting of the Young Ladies Sodality of the B. V. M. church last night in the church basement plans were outlined for a fall festival to be held on Thursday evening, November 9, at the church. The officers will be in charge of the arrangements.

Miss Emma Locassino, president, conducted the meeting attended by 50 members.

During the evening a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary was presented to Miss Frances Adams, who will be married to Dick Locassino at the church on Thursday morning.

On Sunday the Feast of Christ the King will be marked by an all-day celebration and in the evening the Sodality will attend the service in a body.

Another meeting will be held in two weeks.

Funeral Friday For Jacob Blinn

North Sewickley Township Man Dies In Beaver Valley Hospital At Age Of 82

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Jacob Blinn, of North Sewickley township, died in the Beaver Valley General hospital Tuesday at the age of 82 years.

Mr. Blinn, a widower, is survived by the following sons, Maurice of Ellwood City; Howard of Frisco; Harvey of North Sewickley township; and Lawrence of New Brighton; two daughters, Mrs. Laura Hartzel of Marion township, and Mrs. Elsie Majors of Daugherty township; nineteen grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, one brother, William Blinn of Marion township, and two sisters, Mrs. Amelia Hausholder of New Sewickley township, and Mrs. Carolina Blinn of New Brighton.

The body is at the home of his son, Howard, in Frisco, where friends may call. Services will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p. m., in St. John's Lutheran (Burry's) church near Zelenople, and interment will be in Burry's cemetery.

Wuerttemberg Groups Have Annual Dinner

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Most successful was the annual fall dollar-day dinner which took place last evening at the Wuertemberg U. P. church with the Mary Braeden Circle and Women's Missionary society combined for the event this year.

Forty members and guests of the two organizations participated and as the first feature partook of a bountiful tureen dinner served at three elegantly appointed tables featuring seasonable Halloween decorations.

The after-dinner hours were devoted to playing a variety of diverting and amusing games directed by Mrs. J. E. Coughy, Mrs. Victor Koach and Miss Edith Worcester.

The next regular meeting of the Circle will be held on Tuesday, November 14, at the home of Mrs. W. S. Cowan, of Ellport, and the Senior society will gather again on Thursday, November 2, with the place to be decided.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB DANCE TO BE HELD AT ELKS CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—The Elks ballroom has been chosen by members of the Junior Woman's club as the place for their second annual Thanksgiving dance.

It has been agreed to hold the dance, an invitational affair, on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 23.

CATHOLIC SENATE AT BEAVER FALLS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—The monthly meeting of the Senate of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association was held recently in St. Mary's school, Beaver Falls. Mrs. Thamer Dilworth, president, was in charge of the meeting at which reports were given by the various branches. Visits to the tuberculosis home are still being made every Sunday by the branches. Plans are being made for fall and winter activities.

The next meeting will be held on Sunday, November 12.

Thoburn Class Names Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Mrs. S. Y. Douds of Spring avenue graciously entertained members of the Isabel Thoburn class of the First Methodist church on Tuesday evening for the October meeting with 14 members and two guests participating.

Following a devotional period, officers for the new year were chosen as follows: President, Mrs. Percy Lytle; vice president, Mrs. Clyde Hill; secretary, Mrs. Henry Fox; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Douds; teacher, Mrs. Minnie Reynolds; and assistant teacher, Mrs. Hummel.

Games and bingo occupied the hours pleasantly with the nice award being won by Mrs. Thomas Douds. At an appropriate hour tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Clyde Hill and Mrs. McCready.

Another meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 28, at the home of Mrs. Robert Snedden on Wayne avenue.

Lutheran Class Elects Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Christ's Herald class members of the Trinity Lutheran church were guests at a merry party last evening at the home of Miss Alene Miesel of Line avenue.

Ethel May Wallace led the opening devotional period after which the following officers were elected during the business meeting: President, Edward Gregg; vice president, Paul Bingle; secretary and treasurer, Fred Daubenspeck and Miss Marian Hollerman; teacher, Arthur Dambaugh; and assistant teacher, Clarence Hollerman.

Diverting games were enjoyed including Chinese checkers with the prizes going to Marian Hollerman, Helen Bauder and Carl Zekell.

Seasonable refreshments were served at a colorful appointed table in keeping with the Halloween season. Mrs. O. W. Miesel aided in serving.

Mrs. Faith Nye Hostess To Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Members of Class Two of the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church were pleasantly entertained for their October meeting on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Faith Nye, of Line avenue, with sixteen members and the new teacher, Mrs. Iva Clark, in attendance.

Mrs. Bertha Marion led the devotion and a special thank-offering at the next meeting will be a towel shower.

After a pleasant informal hour, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Annie Johnston, Mrs. Matilda McFae and Mrs. Tina Houk in serving a refreshing lunch. Tuesday, November 28, marks the date of the next meeting.

Marjorie Faught Society To Give Play In November

Interesting Meeting Of U. P. Society Held At King Home On New Brighton Road

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Eighteen members and two guests, Miss Marjorie Faught and Mrs. Andrew Kitchner, of the Marjorie Faught Missionary Society of the First U. P. church, were graciously entertained last evening for their October meeting at the home of Misses Edna and Ruth King, of the New Brighton road.

A review of the work being accomplished in the American Indian Mission stations provided the topic for discussion presented by Miss Bessie Burrows as leader with contributing articles being given by Mrs. Robert Dambach, Miss Esther Young, Miss Grace Harbison, Mrs. Clyde Gibson, Jr., Edna and Ruth King and Mrs. Edward Butler.

Miss Harbison conducted the business meeting with plans for a membership drive being made. In preparation for the annual thank-offering celebration on Sunday, November 12, an appropriate play will be presented by the society on Sunday evening, November 5, at the church.

Halloween games were enjoyed for a period after which the hostesses served appropriate refreshments amidst colorful decorations. The place of the November meeting on Tuesday, the 28th, will be announced.

Geneva Alumni Assemble Here

Annual Affair At Baptist Church Proved To Be Most Enjoyable

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Forty eight alumni and students of Geneva College gathered last evening in the social rooms of the First Baptist church for the annual meeting of the local alumni association. John Raschella was chairman of the social period and directed this informal sociability into a grand march and then to a busy period with various games. Professor W. G. Lambert was introduced as guest speaker, bringing the greetings of Geneva College to the local association. He said that Geneva was having a good year with the largest attendance yet save one year. Beaver Falls naturally was the first community in point of the number of students in attendance. New Brighton is second and Ellwood City is third with thirty nine students in attendance this year.

Professor Paul V. Gilbert with Mrs. Gilbert at the piano delighted the gathering with a group of violin numbers.

Following the program everybody went to the dining room which was seasonably decorated in autumn garb with autumn leaves, Halloween colors, and candles, and enjoyed light refreshments which were served by the ladies of the Baptist church.

Following this climax of sociability the undergraduates betook themselves to their slates and pencils while the alumni waited for a short business session with President Lawrence V. Flinner in charge.

The other officers were: John Raschella, first vice president; Mrs. H. S. Gold, second vice president; Miss Bessie Runyan, secretary; Mrs. L. E. Barnhart, treasurer. A possible student scholarship was discussed and referred to a special committee. In this connection it was stated that in Ellwood City there were about two hundred people who had attended Geneva College.

The election of officers concluded the business with the choice of the following: Miss Dorothy Young, president; Mrs. H. S. Gold and V. V. Johnston, vice presidents; Miss Marie Manning, secretary; Miss Katherine Lauderbaugh, treasurer.

To Hear Candidate At Reformed Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Members of the Consistory of the Evangelical Reformed church were entertained in a hospitable manner last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan, of Glen avenue. Wives of the members were special guests and spent the evening socially.

During the business meeting it was agreed to have a candidate, Rev. Loch, of Pitcairn, conduct the services on Sunday morning, November 5, with the congregation to vote in two weeks. At the election, Rev. Musser, a former pastor, will be a special guest.

Home Mission Day will be observed on this coming Sunday with a special program to be conducted by the young people of the church.

An enjoyable social hour following with a tempting lunch being served by the hostess aided by a number of the ladies.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR LEGION UNITS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—What promises to be an enjoyable event of Monday evening, October 30, will take place in the Legion rooms, in Sixth street when the Auxiliary and the J. Wilbur Randolph Post will be combined for their annual Halloween party. The merrymaking will begin at 8:30 p. m.

Ellwood Goes To Aliquippa Friday

Victorious Wolverines To Face Another Formidable Foe Under Lights

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—After seeing his undaunted football team reach a peak on Saturday by decisively repulsing a favored Midland high eleven, Coach "Dutch" Croft is faced by no minor task in endeavoring to bring the Ellwood high Wolverines up again to meet the formidable Aliquippa aggregation on Friday night at the valley stadium.

The players seem to realize that they will face one of the best eleven in the district and inspired by their great progress in defeating the other valley team want to give their best in this game that will take them a long way toward reaching the Valley championship. True, Aliquippa has lost 3 games and won only from Mt. Lebanon and DuBois, but they have been the victims of the outstanding teams of the district, including Midland, Ambridge and Erie Academy.

Croft thinks this game will be just as hard as last week's, stressing the fact that while Midland scored twice against the Lippe men, it was not from sustained drives but only because the fast Midland backs got away on long runs. As in years past, Aliquippa will be the largest team to be faced by the Blue and White. The mentor was highly pleased with the way the Wolverines functioned as a unit in line charging, passes and following up punts and could decide on no outstanding player in the surprise victory.

All of the injured players are expected to be sufficiently recovered from minor injuries to start the game on Friday night. Only one change in the lineup is anticipated for Friday and that will find Mazant starting at fullback. Light workouts, signal drills and chalk talks have been the order this week and tonight the time will be devoted to blocking after which the entire squad will be guests of Andy Biori, of the Majestic theater, as they are each week. A slight workout is scheduled for Thursday night.

The tempting dinner was served at long tables in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eichenlaub, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garwig and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hayden.

Mrs. Mary Hedberg conducted the meeting with the following committees being appointed: Flower, Mrs. Gladys Johnston and Mrs. Mary Hedberg; visiting, Mrs. Elizabeth Conner and Mrs. B. G. Osterhouse; membership, James Chapman, Mrs. Clida Wiley and Mrs. Ethel Garwig; and finance, Dave Jones, Harold Garwig and Charles Wehman.

It was agreed to meet the fourth Tuesday of each month with the next one on Tuesday, November 28, to be in charge of Mrs. Mary Emma Turner, Dean Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hedberg and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnston.

The class will have charge of the mid-week service on Wednesday, November 15, and Mrs. Clida Wiley will be in charge.

Lilyville Class At Riverview Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—On Tuesday evening, members of the Lilyville Church of God were welcomed for their October meeting at the home of Miss Ruth McDanel, of Riverview.

After devotions led by William Daulen and Mrs. John Sockai, a discussion on Bible customs and manners was featured. Harold McKusick conducted the meeting during which two new members, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Koch, were received.

After an entertainment hour, the sixteen attending partook of hearty refreshments served by the hostess and her aide, Miss Dolores McDonaid.

On Tuesday, November 28, Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Lightfritz will entertain at their home, in North Sewickley.

Local Boy Injured In CCC Camp Mishap

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—The many friends of Steve Huzenic, of this city, who is stationed with a C. C. C. camp at Tucumcari, New Mexico, will be sorry to learn that he is confined to a hospital in Mexico City, suffering from chest and face injuries.

The injuries were received recently when he fell 95 feet from a flag pole to which he was attempting to attach a flag rope. He received severe cuts to his face and chest requiring hospitalization but fortunately no bones were broken.

He was being aided in attaching the rope by Donald Welsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Welsh, of this city, who sent the news of the accident to his parents.

ORANGE LODGE WILL VISIT BEAVER FALLS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Plans to attend a meeting of the Beaver Falls lodge on Thursday evening were made by members of the Protestant Boys' Loyol Orange lodge at their semi-monthly meeting held Tuesday night in the bank hall.

Transaction of routine matters occupied the remainder of the evening with the next meeting slated for Tuesday, November 14.

German Bombers: Beware!

A dive bomber would never come so close to the deck of a warship to see the detail of a gun like this, but if it did this is how one of the anti-aircraft guns on the British cruiser Revenge would look. German bombers have tried conclusions with British warships on several occasions, but so far the plane-warship controversy still remains unsettled. (Central Press)

Moderate Rally In Stock Market

Aviation And Steel Shares Lead Advance—Good Earnings Reported

By LESLIE GOULD International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The stock market today added moderately to yesterday's fair-sized rally, with aviation and steel shares again leading the advance. Gains ran to a point or more.

Helpful factors included many bullish third quarter earnings reports. Among those reporting substantial gains over a year ago were Union Carbide, Commercial Solvents, Shell Union Oil, Flintkote, Reynolds Metals and Superior Steel. A number of representative companies took favorable dividend action.

The market was higher from the start and maintained a strong tone despite occasional profit-taking.

Virtually all active aviation shares were at new high for the year, led by Wright Aero on a jump of more than 2 points. Douglas and North American Aviation gained half as much.

STEEL INDUSTRY TO SPEND HEAVILY FOR RESEARCH

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH—The steel industry this year will spend about $10,000,000 for research into methods of improving its products and manufacturing processes and to develop new products, it was estimated recently by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Although the sum is $300,000 short of the amount spent in 1937, the record year, the industry's research program for 1939 is nearly a half million dollars above that of 1938 and is 15 per cent above the total of $8,700,000 which was spent in 1929, according to the Institute's figures.

It was claimed that a total of 2,550 chemists, metallurgists, physicists and other trained scientists devote their full time to research, while approximately 1,300 others devote a substantial part of their working hours in research activities.

Wampum Plans Parade And Street Dance

Medusa Social Committee Planning Gala Celebration On Friday Night

Annual Halloween celebration for the residents of Wampum is scheduled for Friday evening, October 27. There will be a gala street parade and dance during the hours.

Main street of Wampum will be closed for five hours to permit an unhampered good time for everyone. Promptly at 7:30 o'clock, a parade of mummers will march down the street, and upon passing the judges' stand, the best costumes will be selected and prizes awarded.

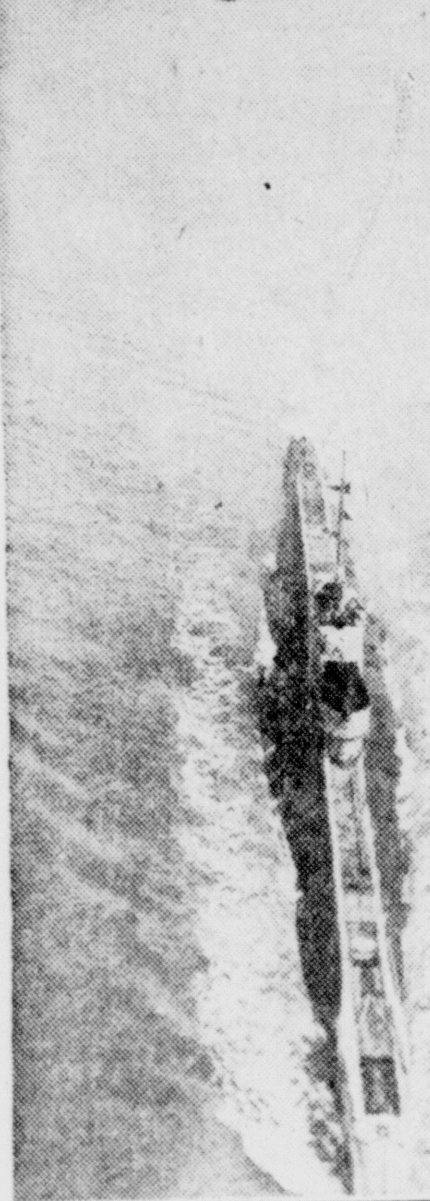

Street dancing will get under way at 9:30 o'clock and will continue until 12 midnight. Dance prizes have also been secured and will be given for the best couples in the following dances: Fox trot, waltz, colored, Polka, square and folk. Out-of-town foreign dances in native costumes will be welcomed, and a $10 cash prize awaits the best in this group.

A tamburita orchestra from Beaver Falls has been secured to furnish music for the dancing. The entire program is under the sponsorship of the Medusa Social committee, headed by Fred Veon, chairman.

BOSTON—Factual tidbits uncovered by research workers for the Federal Historical Records survey of the WPA.

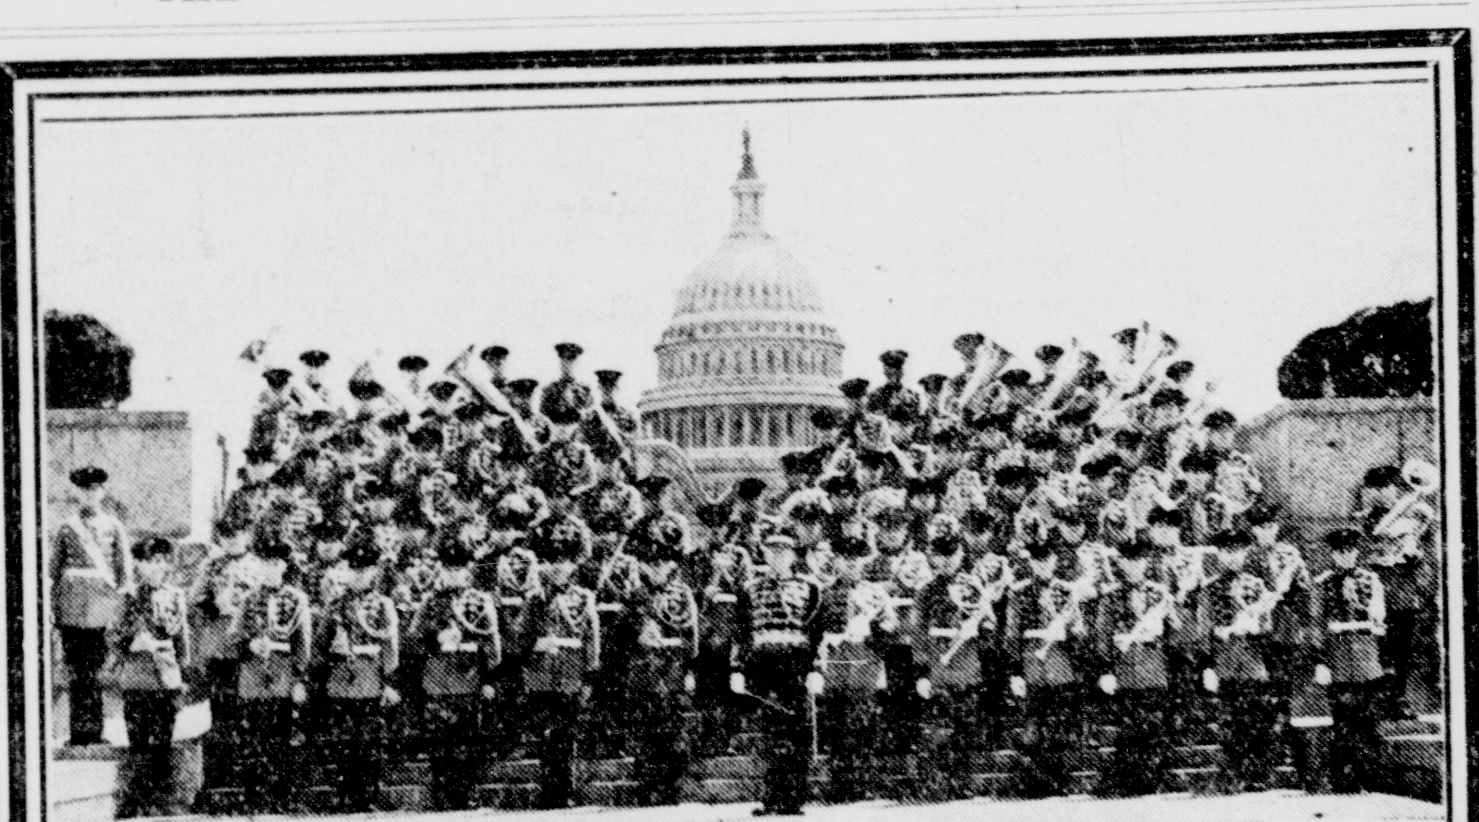

Gallop a horse on the streets of Boston 277 years ago was unlawful, punishable by a fine of three shillings, fourpence. It was felt that "violent riding" would endanger the lives of children.

A license to practice medicine, issued by Ferdinand and Isabella to Diego Vaeza in Loca, Spain, in 1517, is one of the prized possessions in the private collection of Lee M. Friedman, Boston attorney.

In colonial times the term "smart money" was used to identify payments made by ship owners to seamen injured in the course of duty.

Franklin-Mahoning Clash On Thursday

Crucial Contest Slated For Taggart Stadium At 3:30 O'Clock

UNION-SHENANGO CLASH ON FRIDAY

Ben Franklin and Mahoningtown kick-off is one of the local grid headlines Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, on the green carpet of Taggart Stadium.

The crucial game brings together a pair of long time athletic rivals. Ben Franklin's Casey undefeated machine, and a fighting gang of Seventh Warders. The blue and gold juggernaut of Cunningham avenue needs a triumph to continue on to the coveted City Junior High crown. The "Railroaders" are physically fit to halt the march.

Because of the rivalry, one of the most thrilling clashes of the season is anticipated. Mahoningtown has mapped out plans to halt Pee-Wee Geno Paige, Franklin's ball-of-fire. T. Joseph and Augustine will also be marked men. Sisco and Parillo, on the line hope to clear the way for their team mates. "Red" Nickum, flashy Mahoning left half, J. Rouzo and Russo pace the Seventh Warders' attack.

Bessemer Away Bessemer high invades McDonald, Ohio, Thursday afternoon, for a clash with the tough McDonald club. The Cement City steam roller came out of the East Brady tilt in fine physical shape. The localities will be in top form for the classy Ohioans. Bessemer has dropped but one game this season, a close decision to Ursuline, one of the top-notchers in Youngstown.

The biggest crowd of the season is expected at Union Township field, Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, for the Shenango-Union Lawrence County Class B battle. In mowing down Mars, 38-0, the East New Castle club clicked on all 11 cylinders.

Pep Session On Thursday Night

Pep Parade Overtown Streets, Will Start In Afternoon With Pep Chapel

MASSILLON WILL BE LISTENING IN

New Castle high school students are getting pepped up over the approaching game at Massillon on Friday night. Two big pep sessions have been arranged for Thursday afternoon and evening.

Principal Frank L. Orth of Senior high announced today that there would be a big pep chapel exercise at 1 o'clock, lasting for 15 minutes. The pep session will be listening to the program, according to the arrangements.

Talks will be given by Principal Frank L. Orth, Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, Assistant Coach Bill Klee, and a team player who has not been chosen as yet. There will also be cheers by the cheerleaders and the band will play the Massillon and New Castle school songs.

Mayor Will Speak The pep parade will gather at the Legion Home at 8 o'clock on Thursday night. Whether or not the New Castle high end will take part is not known. The decision to march will rest with Professor Joe Replogle. Mayor Charles McGrath has promised to be at Taggart stadium when the students arrive there and say a few words.

There will be a big bonfire lighted and considerable cheering. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will talk, so will the captain of the team that beat Massillon in 1937 and there will also be other speakers. The cheerleaders have arranged for a few novelty stunts to help with the program. The cheerleaders have been doing a swell job this year.

Indications point to several hundred from the high school ready to make the Massillon trip Friday night. Some will drive others will go on the special train over the Pennsy lines.

Thirty Horses Are Entered In Wampum Show

Proceeds From Saturday Horse Show Will Go To Ellwood City Hospital

GOOD WEATHER IS ONLY THING NEEDED

To date, some 30 fine horses have been entered in the benefit horse show which is to take place next Saturday at 1 p. m. on the Pleasant Valley Farm, a short distance from Wampum.

Harold W. Marshall, owner of the Pleasant Valley Farm stables, and manager of the horse show, will announce the entries and their owners as soon as the list is complete. Entire proceeds from the show will go to the Ellwood City hospital.

Entries have been made by saddle and harness horse owners in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. With good weather, the ring show on the Wampum farm should be one of the most enjoyable ever presented in this part of the country. Lawrence county horses will include those owned by Frank Hoyt, Crawford Hoyt and Mr. Marshall.

Manager Marshall's little daughter, Janice, (a three-year-old), will make her debut in the show ring, astride her pony, Jerry. Martha Kidd, of Beaver, aged 5, will show those will be the special features, as the exhibition of Pongee Cream, a five-galting horse owned by Zeno Henninger of Butler. This horse is 18 years old, a retired veteran of the show ring.

DiMaggio Named Most Valuable

Yankee Centerfielder Chosen By Sports Writers As Most Valuable In American League

JIMMY FOXX IN SECOND POSITION

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Already loaded down with baseball honors, Joe DiMaggio, swaggering "Yankee Clipper" of the New York American League club, world champions, today found himself rated as the most valuable player in his circuit for 1939.

A committee of 24 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America—three from each city in the league—selected DiMaggio as the player who contributed most to his team during the 1939 campaign. DiMaggio, who led the league in batting and was a great defensive man, received a total of 280 out of a possible 336 points. Joe drew 15 first places votes of 14 points each, three second place ballots, three third, one fourth and two fifth.

Remarkable Career DiMaggio has had a remarkable career, joining the Yankees in 1936 and aiding in converting the club into a world's championship outfit. He has been in the major four years and each season has played on a world's championship team. There has been no other such case within memory.

Runner-up to DiMaggio this year is burlly Jimmy Foxx of the Boston Red Sox, home run king of the circuit, who amassed 170 points, although getting only one first place vote.

Receiving three first place choices, Pitcher Bob Feller of Cleveland was third with 155 points. In fourth position was the star freshman of the loop, Ted Williams of the Red Sox. He had 126 points.

Many Honored Next came Charley Ruffing, New York pitcher, 116 points; Bill Dickey, New York catcher, 110 points; Emil Leonard, Washington pitcher, 71 points; Bob Johnson, Philadelphia outfielder, 52 points; Joe Gordon, New York infielder, 43 points, and Mike Kreevich, Chicago outfielder, 38 points.

Other players given points were: Clint Brown, Chicago, 34; Ken Keltner, Cleveland, 28; George McGinnis, St. Louis, 24; Charley Gehring, Detroit, 21; Robert Grove, Boston, 17; Joe Cronin, Boston, 15; Ted Lyons, Chicago, 13; Henry Greenburg, Detroit, 12; Louie Newson, Detroit, 11; John Riney, Chicago, 9; Joe Kuhel, Chicago, 8; Charles Keller, New York, 7; Jeff Heath, Cleveland, 7; Gerald Walker, Chicago, 7; Frank Hayes, Philadelphia, 7; Tommy Bridges, Detroit, 7; Robert Rofe, New York, 6; Barney McCosky, Detroit, 6; Eric McNair, Chicago, 5; Hal Trosky, 4; George Case, Washington, 3; Myril Hoag, St. Louis, 3; Rudy York, Detroit, 1 and Luke Appling, Chicago, 1.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Recall Tommy Gibbons who went the limit with Jack Dempsey, fought George Chip and other "Once Greats" in the squared circle? He now is the sheriff of Ramsey county, Minn., and is a keen enthusiast of bowling, according to the American Bowling Congress Bulletin which quotes Tommy as follows:

"Bowling is the finest kind of exercise and you must have exercise if you hope to continue in good health. And, speaking of exercise, the finest kind is that which can be enjoyed. When you reach middle age you don't feel like boxing, wrestling or playing handball. But bowling is one game in which you can work as hard or as easily as you wish. Furthermore, skill at the game can be acquired by the average person."

"There is a great future in bowling for the youth of today for two reasons. Bowling amply provides for the young man in college who can't quite make the varsity football or baseball team. The so-called major sports do not permit enough participation by a sufficiently sizeable number. In bowling, however, every boy has an even chance, regardless of physical proportions and, in many cases, regardless of physical handicaps. The reason is that bowling keeps the youth of today occupied. Bowling is the cleanest kind of exercise in which any youth may indulge and it has a tendency to direct the energy he expends into good channels."

Joe DiMaggio has been rated most valuable player in his league for 1939 by baseball writers. No salary trouble is expected by DiMaggio over his 1940 contract.

Henry Armstrong retained the welterweight crown with a 10-round decision from Jimmy Garrison at Los Angeles last night.

Avery Brundage says the 1940 Olympics will be held in Helsinki as planned or not at all.

Eddie Marino, Al Hostak's manager, has rejected an offer from Mike Jacobs for Hostak to fight Cefterino Garcia in New York.

Reports that Mickie Rubin, local light-heavyweight, will turn professional are erroneous according to amateur fight circles.

Squad To Leave Early The "Red Hurricane" football party will leave New Castle at 1 o'clock for Massillon, by bus, it was announced today by Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh. The local squad will comprise 30 men and a number of assistant coaches and Faculty Manager Scots Nelson.

A stop will be made at a small town outside of Massillon for supper and so that the boys can rest. The team will not be taken into Massillon much before 7 o'clock. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Red Hurricane Is Determined To Give Best

Will Give All They Have In Massillon Game, Is Attitude Of Entire Squad

VETERAN MATERIAL BREAKS OUT EVEN

ASKED for a statement on the game at Massillon Friday night the answer came in the following—"We're going to do our best." It was Lindy Lauro, the 185 pound full-back speaking. That seems to be the consensus of the entire team.

New Castle High's big Red Hurricane football team faces a huge task Friday night in battling Massillon's "point-a-minute" team. The Massillon Tiger has not had his tail twisted since an evening back in 1937 in the Massillon fair 7 to 0. Of the boys on the New Castle team that stopped the "Brownies" there are just three regulars left who will face the same task Friday night—Lindy Lauro, John Kulins and Joe Gendler.

Massillon has three also who started the New Castle game in 1937 and who will start Friday night of this week—Earl Martin, George Slusser and Bill Zimmerman. Zimmerman and Slusser are backfield men, Martin is the center. Massillon will have two men who have earned regular berths—Bill Predotto, a guard, and Bob Foster, a halfback. New Castle likewise has two snos who saw little action in the 1937 game but who have earned varsity jobs—Bainie Gonnane the left end and Attilio "Dynamite" Castrucci, the right guard. So in veteran material it is an even break.

Have Big Scoring Edge Massillon will hold a big scoring edge over the locals, having piled up the amazing total of 310 points in six games, while the locals can show but 80 points in six games. Massillon's offensive drive seems to be built around Foster and Slusser. The Tigers also have a varied passing attack with Slusser and Clendenning doing the most of the tossing. Mr. Gillom, the big colored boy, does most of the catching. Clendenning has been doing the sub-fullbacking for Zimmerman who has been on the injured list, but who will be back in time for the New Castle game.

Meanime the New Castle High team is going through its daily paces at Taggart Stadium. The boys are not saying very much. They know that they face a big assignment Friday night. They are eager to win. They know that it is not going to be any "pink tea" affair.

Many Will Go Nineteen teams have tried to take the Massillon Tigers into camp since New Castle turned the trick. All have failed. It would be a big feather in the cap of the locals to be able to upset the dope bucket again this year.

Indications now point to a big crowd of New Castle fans and students following the "Canes" to Massillon on Friday night. Several hundred are expected to drive over to Massillon and it was indicated that the Pennsy would more than likely run its special train. The train will leave here at 5:05 and get to Massillon at 7:15 o'clock. Returning after the game it is hoped to have the special back in New Castle shortly after the stroke of midnight.

Tells Legion Stand

Raymond Kelly

Raymond Kelly

National American Legion Commander Raymond Kelly, of Detroit, on visit to New York, declares "The Legion is against war." He made it plain, however, that the Legion would fight if the United States were invaded, the Monroe Doctrine violated, or our national integrity threatened.

Flower Show Plans Progress

Flower Growers From Eastern U. S. To Have Exhibits Here Nov. 15-18

Flower growers of many parts of the eastern United States will be represented in the Cathedral November 15-16-17-18, when the sixteenth annual flower show of the Northwest Pennsylvania Florists Association will be held as a part of the convention of the florists.

The premium list has been made up and includes prizes for a wide variety of competition in flower design. Many of the prizes will be in cash, notably the prizes for the best retail display to be arranged in a 16x12 foot space. These prizes are sponsored by the New Castle members of the association. For first prize $50 is offered, for the second $25, in all nearly $600 in cash prizes are offered. The grand prize is $50 for the one winning the most ribbons.

Other prizes include merchandise awards and five cups which are annually competed for. These trophies must be won three times successively to retain permanent possession. No local growers will compete for any prizes.

While there will be several seasonal flower known in the display the featured flower will be the chrysanthemum. Thousands of the blooms will be seen ranging from the button sized pom pom to the aristocratic varieties which look like small cabbages.

The show and convention will attract hundreds of growers and florists from the eastern United States.

Countess Returns

Countess of Winchelsea

Back from warring Europe, the Countess of Winchelsea and Nottingham returns to her native land aboard the S. S. Georgic to visit her daughter, Lady Daphne Straight. The Countess, pictured on arrival in New York, is the former Margaret Drexel, daughter of the late Anthony J. Drexel, of Philadelphia.

Male Chorus In First Rehearsal

Tuesday evening, the New Castle Male Chorus held their initial rehearsal of the season at the Aiken school on Pearson street, under the directorship of Prof. Elmer Canagy, of Wampum, and E. E. Branstetter, as accompanist. Owing to other engagements, the Misses Gwladys and Ann Thomas, are accompanist respectively of the chorus, it is stated. Hallowe'en being next Tuesday, the next rehearsal will be November 7, when there will be election of officers.

Organ Repairs Started Today

New Chime Organ To Be Added And Present Equipment Electrified

Long delayed repairs to the Mahoning Methodist church organ were commenced today by workmen from the Alliance, O., firm, who are holders of the contract for the work.

The contract calls for a complete electrification of the present organ, and the installation of a set of chimes. This will bring the present organ up to date and as efficient as a new instrument.

After the work is completed, plans have been made to have a dedication program in the church auditorium. Date and plans for this event will be announced later.

K. J. U. CLASS HAS PARTY ON TUESDAY

Members of the K. J. U. class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, held a Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. F. W. Guy, North Liberty street. Mrs. Arthur Brown served as co-hostess for this event.

All of the class members were masked, and a portion of the evening was spent in a guessing contest in an effort to identify the various people.

Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Marie Hamilton, who provided an informal game program. Plans were made for a fall festival on December 1, at the church. Mrs. George Horner, president, appointed several committee members to arrange for future activities.

Hallowe'en refreshments were served by the hostesses. Next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 21.

NEW LIGHTS BRIGHT

New type lights were turned on for the first time Tuesday evening, and many residents reported that they noticed a brighter appearance along Liberty and Cherry streets.

The old style lights along these streets were mounted on top of poles and were pointed upward. The new lights are of the hanging type and reflect the light towards the street and sidewalk.

AT CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dungan, of Newell avenue, have returned to their home after a visit with relatives and friends in Martins Ferry, O. While away, Mr. and Mrs. Dungan attended the 70th anniversary celebration of the Scotch Ridge Presbyterian church, located near Martins Ferry, O. This church was Mrs. Dungan's home church.

NEW CASTLE MAN'S TRUCK IS LOOTED

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 25.—Breaking a window of a truck and handles from two of its doors, an unknown thief Monday night made away with a truck and tobacco valued at $70.

The truck, owned by the Philip Morris company of New York City and driven by E. C. Barbour of 1619 Washington street, New Castle, was parked on East New Castle street, beside Offutt's store, while the driver ate his dinner.

When he returned, he found that the right window of the truck had been broken and the handles torn from the two doors, and the tobacco stolen.
